Module 1: Scientific Communication Skills

By Teresa Morell, English Studies Department, University of Alicante

This workshop is designed to help ESRs to present their research effectively.

Objectives:

1. To become more aware of
 - The components of oral presentations (audience, message and speaker)
 - Verbal and non-verbal modes of communication (multimodality)
 - Organization of a research presentation.
2. To practice
 - Presenting their research
 - Evaluating their presentations and those of other ESRs, constructively.

Assignment:

Each ESR is required to prepare a short (5 min. max) presentation of their research project and read the following paper:

Morell, T., «International conference paper presentations: A multimodal analysis to determine effectiveness», English for Specific Purposes 37 (2015) 137–150.
